ESIL Interest Group on Migration and Refugee Law event in the framework of the ESIL Research Forum on 'The International Rule of Law and Domestic Dimensions: Synergies and Challenges'

On Wednesday, 3 April 2019, the ESIL Interest Group on Migration and Refugee Law (IG MigRefLaw) will organise a side-event in the framework of the ESIL Research Forum, Göttingen, which targets scholars at an early stage of their careers. This year's theme of the Research Forum concerns the rule of law in international and domestic contexts.

The IG MigRefLaw will pick up this topic by focusing on the function and implications of the rule of law in migration issues. The organising committee for this event therefore welcomes proposals for papers addressing mainly (but not limited to) the following themes:

- The rule of law and appropriate state responses to migratory movements;
- The place and role of the rule of law in the global migration governance;
- The rule of law and its application/interpretation by domestic and international courts and tribunals, in the context of fundamental rights of migrants and refugees, and/or forcibly displaced persons;
- The rule of law in the reception policies of migrants, refugees and/or forcibly displaced persons;
- The role of regional and international organisations in supporting the rule of law in national legal, administrative and judicial processes, when dealing with migration issues;
- The rule of law in EU Member States and implications for cooperation in Europe in the field of migration and asylum.

Abstracts written in English or French (no more than 500 words) should be submitted to migreflaw@gmail.com by 10 December 2018. Please also include your contact information and affiliation.
