The externalisation of EU migration policies in light of EU constitutional principles and values: a global actor to trust?

Webinar jointly organised with the University of Salamanca, Faculty of Law

The aim of this seminar was to address the latest developments in the externalisation of EU migration management, particularly those implemented in cooperation with third countries, and to assess their compliance with the requirements imposed by the EU constitutional framework, specifically with the principles and values that should guide Union's external conduct in this area.

The EU's global role with respect to the principle of solidarity under international law: a quest for normativity?

Webinar on the occasion of the 2021 ESIL Research Forum (Catania)

The theme of the 2021 ESIL Research Forum concerned the role of solidarity in the fabric of international law as well as in its different branches of law. The IG EUGLOBAL picked up this topic by focusing on the European Union's global role with respect to the principle of solidarity under international law. After a call for papers, the participants presented their work in different areas of EU/international law (trade/human rights; labour rights/environment; public health).
