

ESIL Interest Group on the Law of the Sea

Pre-Research Forum Workshop

Glasgow, 30 March 2022

09.00-12.30 GMT – Room to be announced

‘International Law of the Sea and Global Security: Regulating an Illusion?: A Roundtable Discussion’

As some of us will gather in Glasgow (or join in online) for the 2022 ESIL Research Forum, to discuss the theme ‘International Law and Global Security: Regulating an Illusion?’, we would like to offer our Interest Group members who are Early Career Researchers (ECRs) an opportunity to meet more informally in Glasgow, to discuss their current research and network.

We welcome you to an informal on-site roundtable discussion, where ECRs with an interest in the law of the sea can meet and discuss their work. The aim of this workshop is to provide ECRs with the opportunity to discuss recent developments, develop their thoughts about law of the sea topics, and perhaps even facilitate new collaboration opportunities.

We would also like to hear any thoughts you may have on future Interest Group activities and how this Interest Group could be more useful for ECRs.

We invite all who consider themselves to be an ECR with an interest in the law of the sea to join! We hope to welcome many of you in Glasgow on Wednesday 30 March 2022 for an informal discussion and networking meeting!

If you would like to join our in-person workshop, please send an email to j.schechinger.1@research.gla.ac.uk.
