

International Business
and Human Rights
Interest Group

Webinar Series on Economic Sanctions & Human Rights convened by the
ESIL Interest Group on International Business & Human Rights

This public webinar series brings together leading practitioners and academics to explore current and emerging legal issues, especially those related to human rights, arising from evolutions in the use and forms of economic sanctions by the United States, United Kingdom, and European Union, among others. Each webinar is dedicated to one phase of the ‘life cycle’ of economic sanctions and will offer timely insights to practitioners, academics, students, and policymakers alike. More detailed descriptions of each session are available here.

Register here.

Session 1: Sanctions designations and human rights
20 February at 14:00GMT

Moderator: Ms. Nina M. Hart, King’s College London

Speakers:

- Prof. Anupam Chander, Georgetown University Law Centre
- Ms. Diana Friling, Friling Law PLLC
- Mr. Michael O’Kane, Peters & Peters LLP
- Prof. Takis Tridimas, Université du Luxembourg

Session 2: Sanctions compliance, enforcement, and human rights
6 March at 14:00GMT

Moderator: Ms. Nina M. Hart, King’s College London

Speakers:

- Dr. Michael Albrecht vom Kolke, Skadden LLP
- Ms. Ginger T. Faulk, Eversheds Sutherland LLP
- Mr. Bruno Lebrun, Janson LLP
- Prof. Jacob Öberg, University of Southern Denmark & Örebro University

Session 3: Sanctions, arbitration, and human rights
20 March at 13:00GMT

Moderator: Dr. Cristina Popa Tache, International Institute for the Analysis of Legal and Administrative Mutations

Speakers:

- Dr. Crina Baltag, Stockholm University
- Dr. Joel Dahlquist, Arnold & Porter LLP
- Ms. Damroka Kościelak, Office of the General Counsel to the Republic of Poland
- Prof. Jacomijn van Harsolte-van Hof, Fountain Court Chambers & Universiteit Leiden