

ESIL Annual Conference 2025, pre-conference workshop

Interdisciplinarity and the (re)construction of international law

Wednesday 10 September 2025

Boltzmannstraße 3, Room 2215, 1st floor

Berlin

15:00 – 15:05

Workshop Opening

Zuzanna Godzimirska (University of Copenhagen)

15:05 – 16:25

Panel 1: Interdisciplinarity in the theorization of international law

Chair: Wim Zimmermann (University of Salzburg)

- The legal infrastructure of mobility and its pathways: introducing an interdisciplinary framework for studying mobility law – Andrea Jiménez Laurence (University of Copenhagen)
- In the Age of Chaos: How decolonial and feminist approaches can help reconstruct international environmental law – Elsa Tsioumani (University of Liège), Adriana Moreno-Cely (University of Liège & Vrije Universiteit Brussel) and Christine Frison (University of Liège)
- Narrating National History, Constructing International Law – Xuan W. Tay (New York University)
- Lifting the Veil or Ripping It: International Law and Narrative Scholarship and its Paradoxes – Antoine De Spiegeleir (European University Institute)

16:25 – 16:35

Break

16:35 – 16:55

Panel 2: Interdisciplinarity in the performance of international law

Chair: Zuzanna Godzimirska (University of Copenhagen)

- Street-Level Bureaucrats and Cognition: A Dynamic Approach to Compliance with International Law – Regina Jefferies (UNSW Sydney)
- Juggling Justice: Views from the Strasbourg Bench – Alice Margaria (University of Zurich)
- The “Chilling Effect” of Systemic Discrimination: Measuring Victim’s Perceptions of Procedural Fairness to Understand Their Legal Silence – Konrad Turnbull (University of Groningen)
- Global South Narratives in the ITLOS Advisory Proceedings on Climate Change – Paula Wojcikiewicz Almeida, Lucas Vollers, Valentine Tissot Pinheiro, Vitor Furtado de Melo, Ana Carolina Vasconcelos Livia Rosas Lamour (FGV Centre for Global Law)

17:55 – 18:00

Workshop closing

Tommaso Soave (Central European University)

Interest Group Coordinating Committee:

Zuzanna Godzimirska (University of Copenhagen), Tommaso Soave (Central European University), Ezgi Yildiz (Bowdoin College), Wim Zimmermann (University of Salzburg)